DETAILED ACTION

1. This action is in response to applicant's amendment received on 11/13/2006.

Priority

2. Acknowledgment is made of applicant's claim for foreign priority based on an application filed in France on 03/18/1997. It is noted, however, that applicant has not filed a certified copy of the French application 97/03277 as required by 35 U.S.C. 119(b).

Drawings

3. The drawings were received on 11/13/2006. These drawings are acceptable.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

4. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

5. Claim 7 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Jackson (U.S. Patent 5,941,885) in view of Biedermann (U.S. Patent 5,681,319).

Regarding claim 7, Jackson discloses a device comprising a cylindrical sleeve having an end part forming a female hexagonal endpiece, which opens into a bore that receives a sliding member. Jackson discloses the sliding member including an emerging end. Jackson fails to disclose the emerging end of the sliding member having two cylindrical lateral branches forming a U-shaped opening and the outer walls of the emerging end having threads. Biedermann teaches a device having an emerging end comprising two cylindrical lateral branches forming a U-shaped opening and the outer walls of the emerging end having threads in order to press a pressure member onto a screw head to block any relative movement of the screw head (column 4 lines 26-37) and to engage internal threads of a bone anchor (column 3 lines 14-17). It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to manufacture the emerging end of the sliding member of Jackson with two cylindrical lateral branches and with outer walls having threads in order to press a pressure member onto a screw head to block any relative movement of the screw head and to engage internal threads of a bone anchor.

Allowable Subject Matter

6. Claims 1-6 are allowed.

Response to Arguments

7. Applicant's arguments with respect to claim 7 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection. The applicant argues that Jackson does not anticipate the structural limitations of claim 7, since Jackson does not disclose the emerging end of the device to include two cylindrical lateral braches or outer threads on the outside walls of the emerging end. Claim 7 prior to the amendment did not positively recite the features with respect to the emerging end of the sliding member and therefore were not necessary for the anticipation rejection. However, with claim 7 as currently amended the features with respect to the emerging end of the sliding member are positively recited and therefore required for any rejection. Therefore, the examiner has given a new ground of rejection for claim 7 as necessitated by the amendment of claim 7.

Conclusion

8. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. See PTO-892 for cited references the examiner felt were relevant to the application.

9. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
